Time4You, SPC Training and ABC Counselling Solutions

Training dates: 28th & 31st May (10am - 4pm)

30 hours blended training (workshops & online) for counselling with Children and Young People

This exciting new training programme is for qualified counsellors or counselling trainees, whose core training course covered working with adults only. The components covered on this programme will reflect the minimum standard expected by the British Association for Counselling and Psychotherapy (BACP) to enable participants to begin working ethically, counselling with children and young people.

You will benefit from our integrative child centered approach to training with opportunities for experiential practice, including core counselling skills for working with young people as well as theory and approaches to help you increase your self-awareness and improve your communication skills with this client group.

Blended Model of Delivery

You will be required to attend two days of face to face training, where you will be taught to recognise the importance of relationship building and its connection with attachment theory, plus a range of creative strategies to support the children and young people you work with. In addition the training will cover the importance of working within professional and ethical guidelines.

The on-line modules will be delivered by Dr Sue Pattison and Dr Maggie Robson and these will include, understanding the legal frameworks relating to children and young people, confidentiality, consent and capacity, child protection issues, risk assessment and contracts.

About your trainers: all are BACP accredited therapists with a wealth of experience in education, training, delivery, counselling, play therapy and clinical supervision for children and young people.

Dr Sue Pattison and Dr Maggie Robson are Editors of the Sage Handbook of Counselling Children and Young People and are trainers with SPC Online Training Ltd. Sandra Bell is Founder and Director of Time 4 You Psychological School counselling Service and Karen Lowe is co-Founder and Director of ABC Counselling, Play Therapy and Family Solutions.
